Saranac High School
150 Pleasant
Saranac, Michigan

In this yearbook we have tried to capture the moods of the students of S.H.S. By looking through the windows of the 1969 Chieftain, you will be given an inside look at those who attend Saranac High School daily, all the activities in which they may take part, their teachers and friends, and all the emotions that are present in the expressions on the faces of every student.

Through the window of time pass the feelings of man: joy and sorrow.

December of last year brought a moment of silence to the halls of Saranac High School. Mr. Aldrich passed away. He was a good and common man who did his job, as custodian, as best he could. Mr. Aldrich worked hard to make S.H.S. a school the students would be proud of.

Although he is gone, he will be remembered by those who knew him, as a dedicated and respected man.

Look through any window

The ins-and-outs of test tube discoveries are heard about before being practiced.

Physics

The effects of friction on a rolling car are observed by high school Newtons.

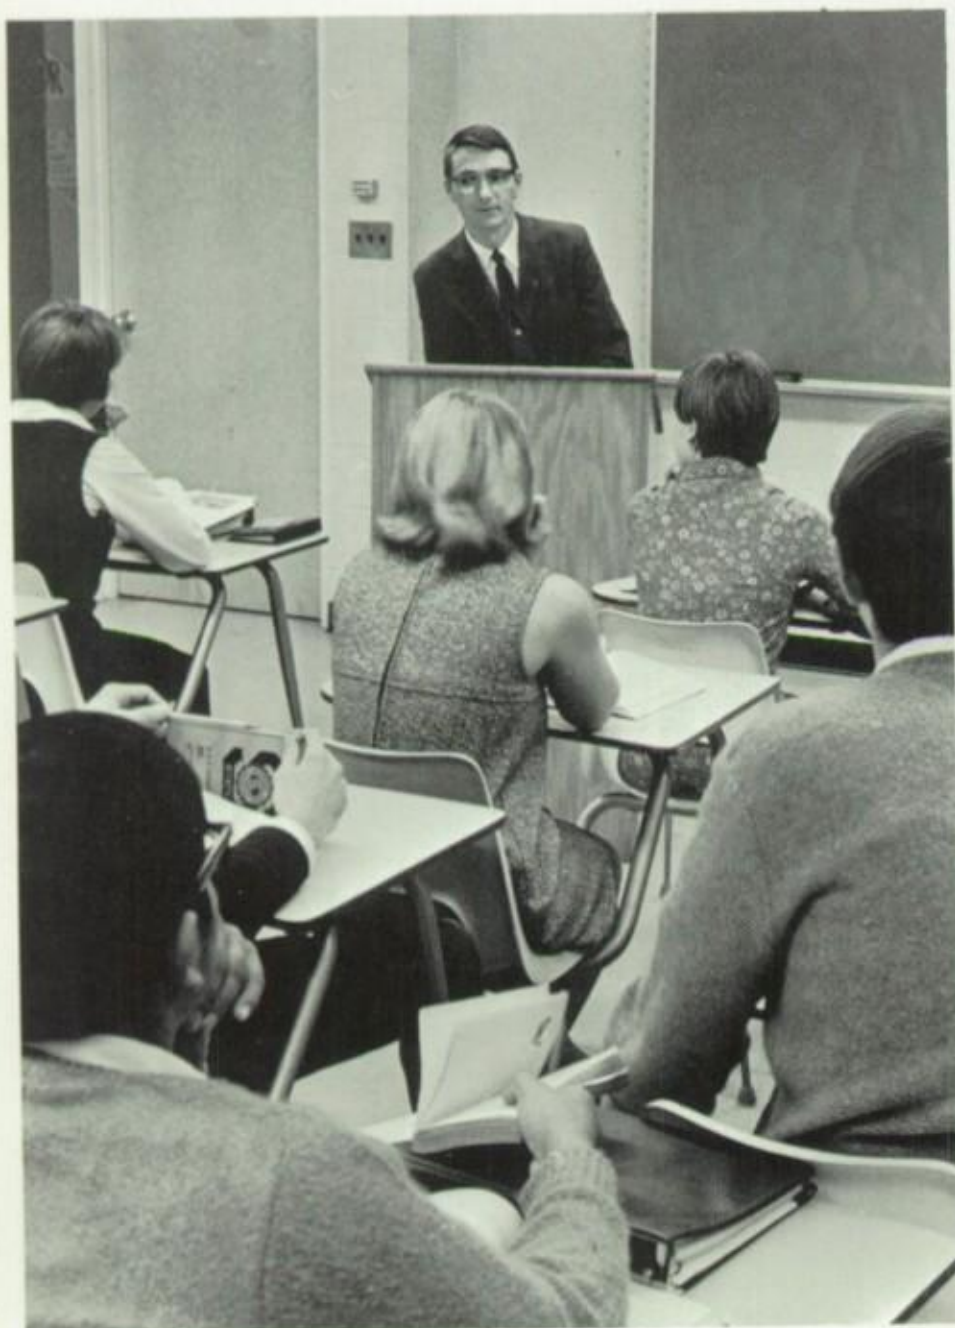

U.S. History

Mr. Lada heads the discussion on the latest political maneuver.

World History

Students take a 20th century pause from ancient Greece and Rome.

Sociology

The shades of man's interaction is covered by his group activity.

Government

Awaiting the results of a blackboard diagram both teacher and students muse.

Trigonometry

Mr. TerBurgh answers a right-angle question with a front-in-center pose.

Algebra I

A slide-rule headlines a cross section of male/female Euclids.

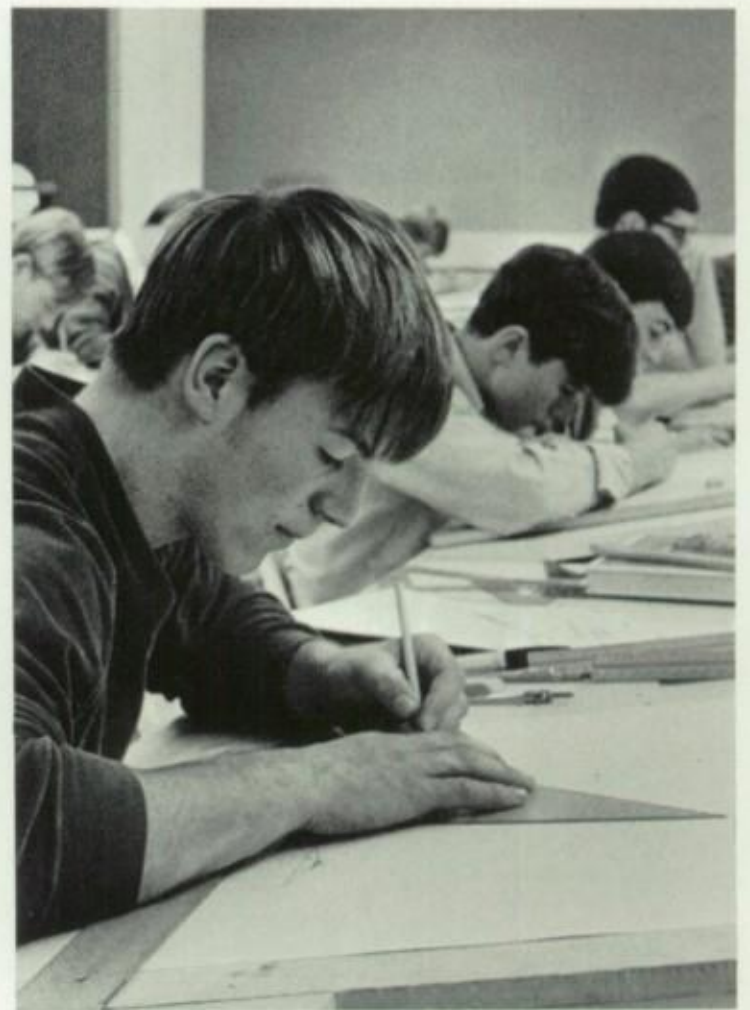

Geometry

Taking a classroom tour, Mr. TerBurgh stops for some back-of-the-class tutoring.

Basic Agriculture

Mechanical Drawing

Shop I

Vocational students have the advantage of applying their newly learned skills while still in the classroom.

Home Economics

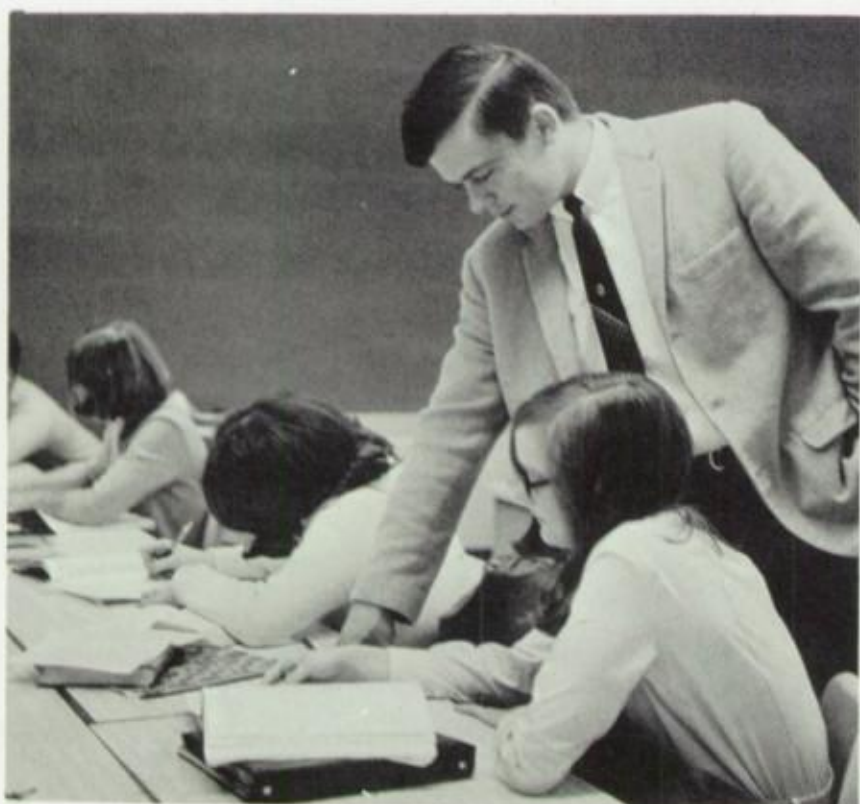

Office Practice

The procedures of modern office are learned and applied by these future secretaries.

Shorthand

Juniors and Seniors are drilled and redrilled on the scribbles and dashes of shorthand.

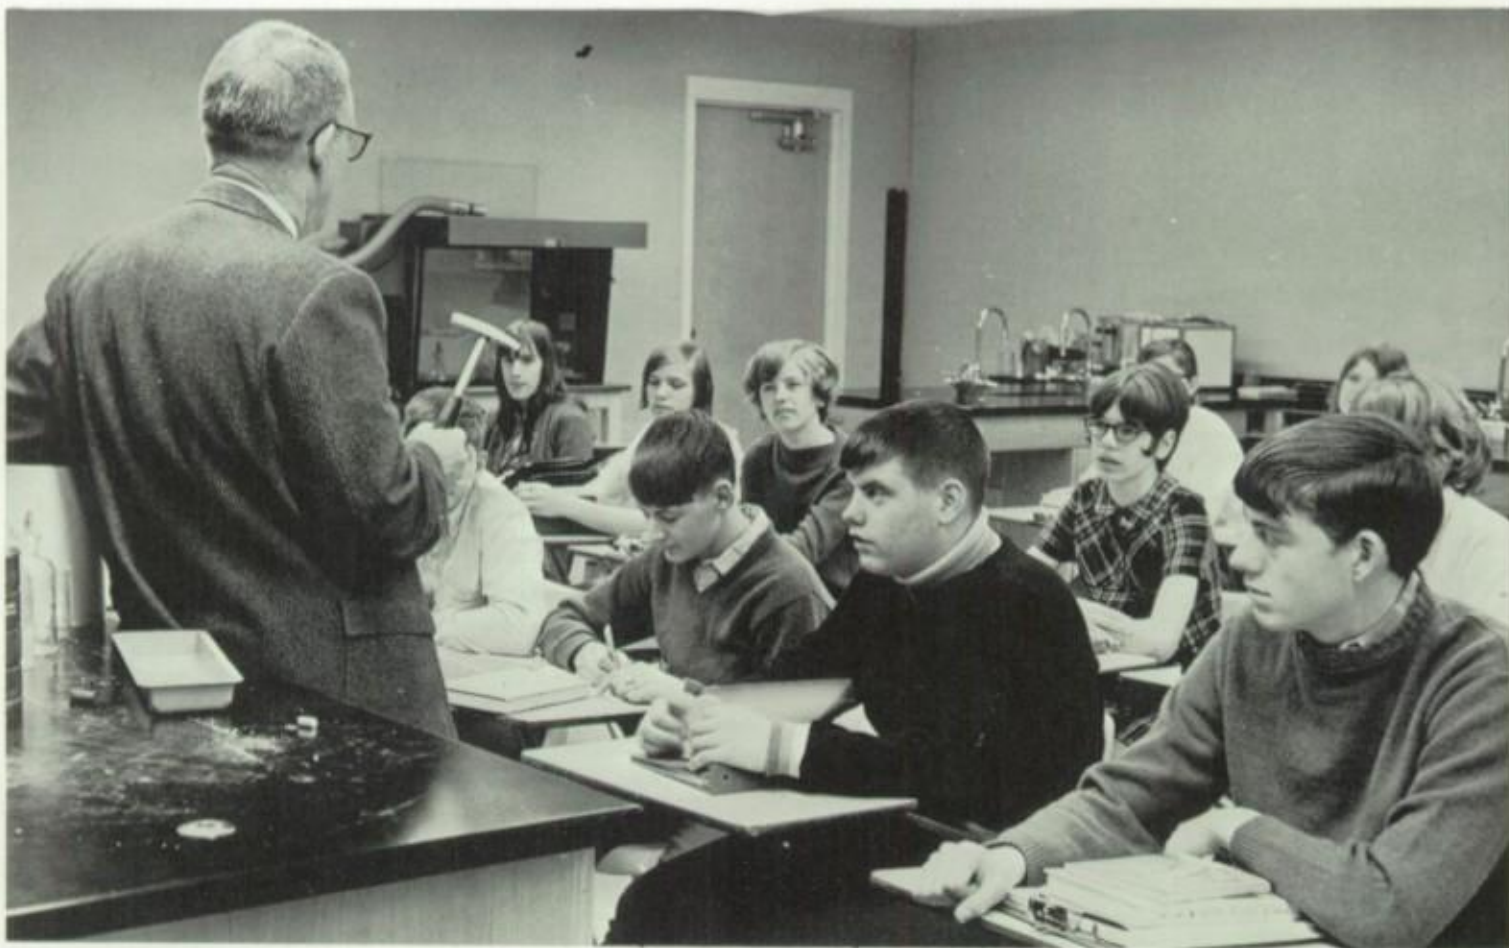

General Business

Mr. Frens teaches his students the ins and outs of running a business organization.

Typing

These typists must be taking a five min. timing, an exercise which increases the typing pace.

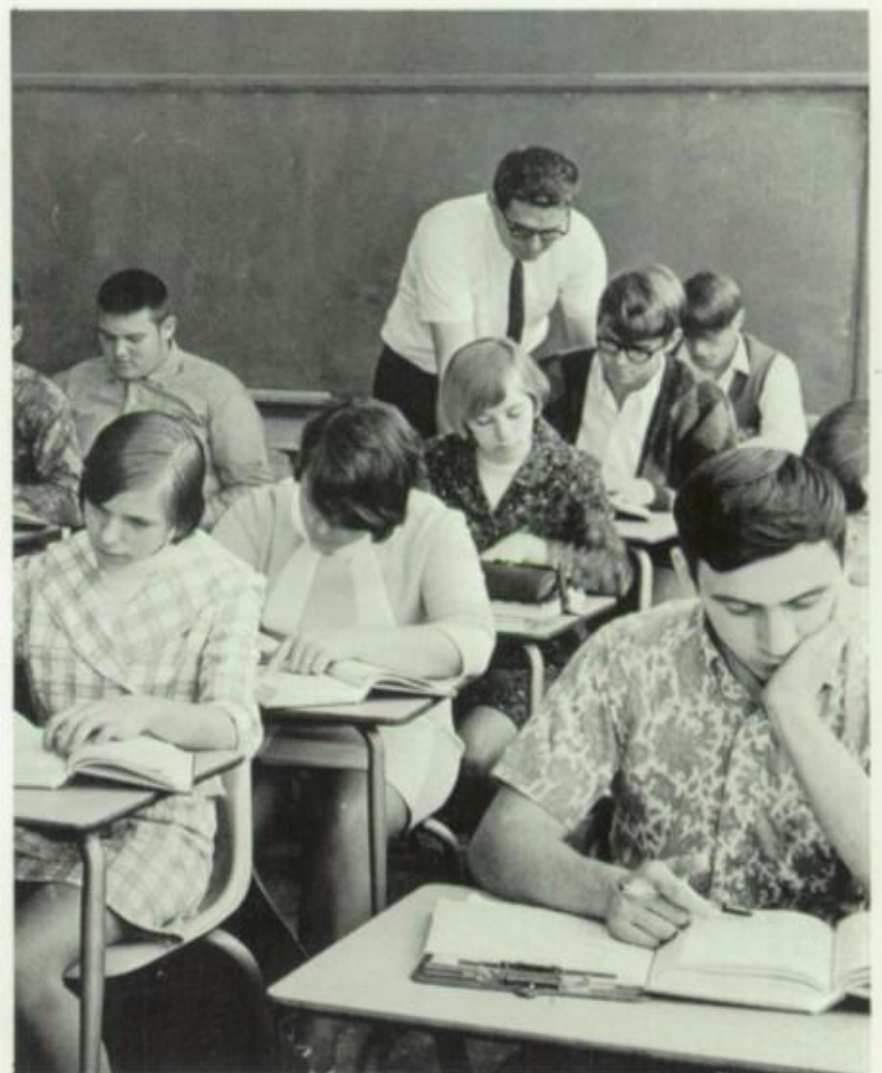

Orientation

A new class at SHS, a period Orientation is in the command of Counselor, Mr. Haskins.

Communication Skills

A vocational subject, this class offers students insight into literature and English.

General Math

A group of enthusiastic (?) young individuals are taught fundamentals of mathematics.

Counseling

SHS's counselor tries another line as Mr. Bell's invention connects him to speech class.

Library

Mrs. Compagner and Mrs. Cahoon book each other's day in keeping the library top-shelf.

Art

Kevin Carigon strokes his canvas with a dab of blue in re-creating a Picasso painting.

THE GRADUATES OF 1969

Simmer slowly for thirteen years, add a dash of knowledge gained during these years, stir in a cup of fun, the dances ... games ... prom ... powderpuff ... floats ... cream the enjoyment obtained from class parties ... carnival ... magazine sale. Add this to the drier ingredients ... tests ... exams ... workdays ... and you will have the Graduates of 1969.

People usually have a reason for attending a football game, but Mr. Trierweiler has three: his son, his daughter and Dad's Night.

Safetyman Ken Harrington lowers a shoulder into a Portland runner and brings him down with a crunching tackle.

Norm Dawson leads the defensive charge as a Fulton player is brought to the turf as Mike Butcher and Mitch Vroman lend a helping hand while Ben Raison and Dave Courter look on.

WHEN THE GOING GOT TOUGH, THE TOUGH GOT GOING

Roger Trierweiler and Dave Courter give a Pirate runner the high-low treatment during a 23-7 Redskin victory.

Andy Hill, Dave Courter, and Mitch Vroman pit their strength against the tough Red Raider offense.

Shown above is Saranac junior Dave Courter who is about to bring down a Pirate halfback. Dave received honorable mention recognition All-State in Class D during the past year from the Detroit Free Press. Dave played hard-nosed, heads-ups football for Coach TerBurgh throughout the entire year.

Our faithful cheerleaders and our loyal Redskin fans are shown here cheering the Reds on to victory.

DECISIONS

Editor, Kim Smith, writes a cut line for a Hi Spy picture selection.

HI SPY EDITORIAL AND TECHNICAL STAFF

Around this page are pictured the people who made the Hi Spy possible. Unpictured, but deserving credit are several adults including sponsor, Mr. Laabs, who cajoled the staff to turn in their assignments on time and served as the paper's censor; Dwight Brown, the man responsible for putting the Hi Spy into print; and finally Wayne Stebbins, who took each picture and patiently converted it into a collection of dots which form a picture on the printed page. Before each issue the staff is engulfed in a frantic flurry of activity to come up with brilliant articles and features as well as trying to take the news of SHS and give it a strong reader appeal.

The Hi Spy staff gave freely of their time in an effort to produce a paper which showed their dedication to their goal of serving the students of Saranac.

Blazing Bonfire Begins 1968 Homecoming

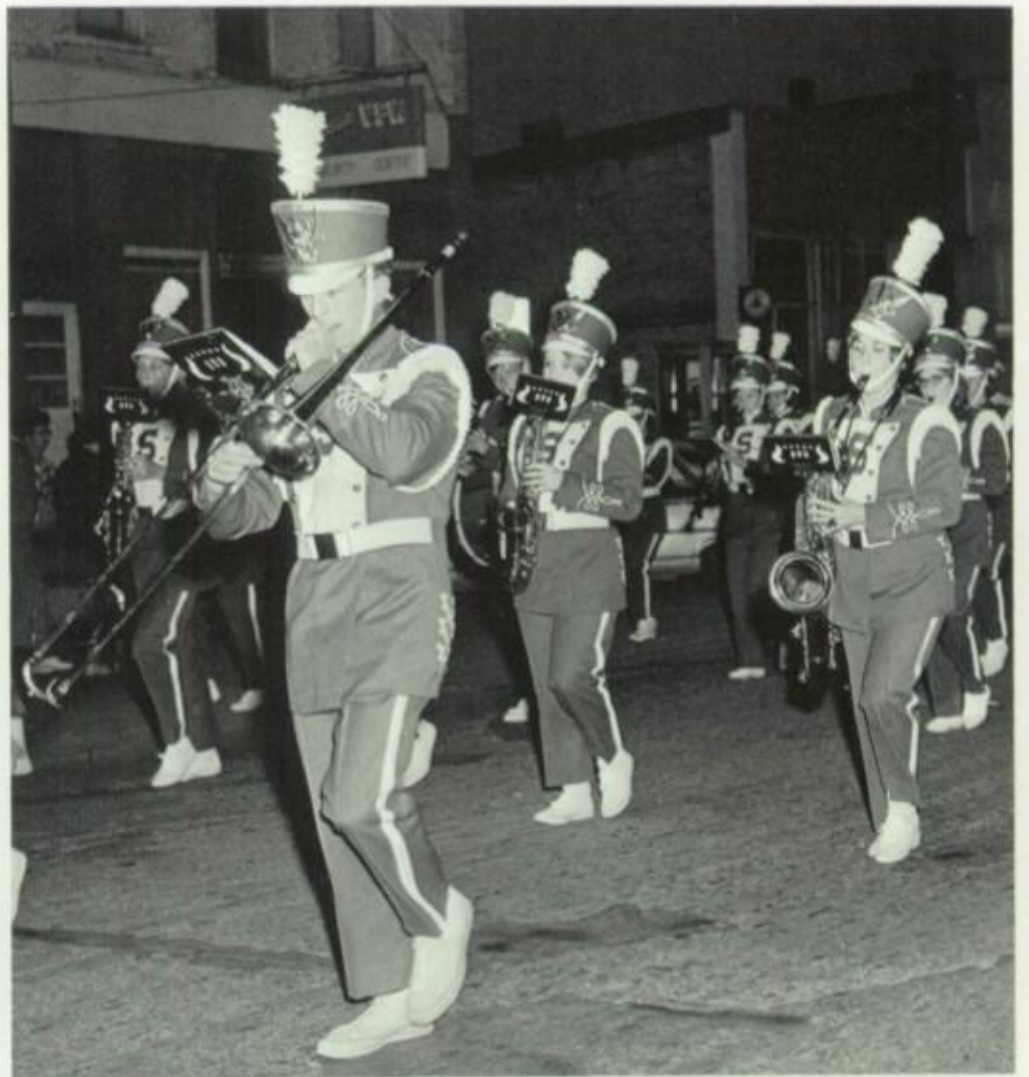

Amy Laird ignites spirit before the night of Homecoming game.

Fulton burns in effigy.

Floats are frantically worked on the night before Homecoming.

The Snake Dance is lead by the spirited SHS marching band.

Through the Window of Excitement . . . Homecoming!

Floats and Kings and Queens added up to "Somewhere Over the Rainbow," an event brought alive by much excitement and anticipation. Tension filled the air of the SHS halls, as the students frantically tried to get their floats finished.

At last the long-awaited night came. Excitement rose to a feverish pitch, the climax of which was a glorious victory against the Fulton-Middleton Pirates. The spirit mounted as the floats encircled the field to the music of the Redskin Marching Band and then the crowning of Queen Suzanne and King Tom . . . Yes, the night seemed to melt away all too quickly . . . the work, the planning . . . An event not soon to be forgotten - "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" . . . Truly a success!

"Thru This Mirror Lies Victory"

The band's music highlighted the float presentation.

"On The Road To Victory"

Queen's Float - built by the Jaycees.

"Rip Roarin' Victory"

A Homecoming Victory

The tension mounts as the time draws near for the announcement of the 1969 Homecoming Queen.

Happiness is evident as 1967 Homecoming Queen Lynda Miller presents Queen Suzanne with a bouquet of red roses.

The Homecoming Game is viewed with mixed emotions by both spectators and cheerleaders.

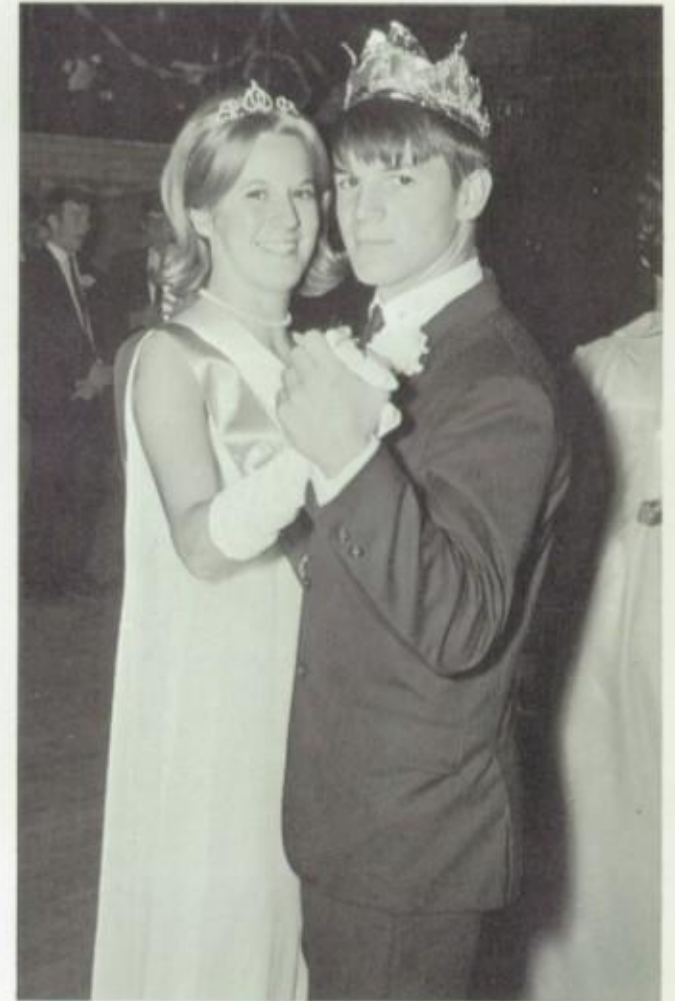

The team shows its delight after scoring two touchdowns on the Fulton team at the Homecoming Game.

"SOMEWHERE OVER THE RAINBOW"

Queen Suzanne and King Tom began the court's dance.

The Cheerleaders stopped at no heights to make Homecoming the best.

The couples enjoyed an evening of dancing "Somewhere over the Rainbow."

Windows Often Bring Different Aspects of Life and Most Certainly – Powderpuff Football

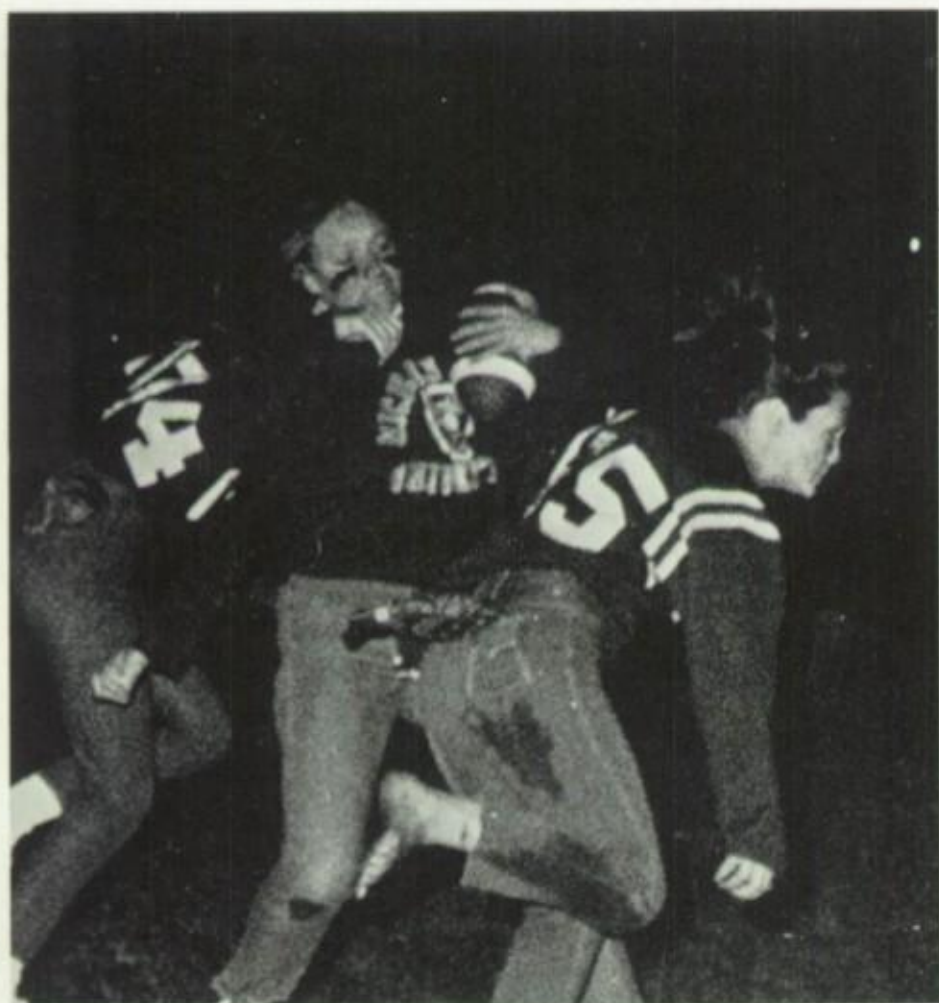

Quarterback Gloria Trierweiler dodges her opponents and heads for a touchdown.

On a chilly October evening 13 senior and 19 junior girls took to doing cal's on the grid-iron. The "lovely" male cheerleaders got the innocent crowd cheering, laughing, and screaming. The girls courageously fought against each other, and the final result was Senior girls over junior girls - 19-8.

"Lovely" David Courter is crowned Powderpuff Queen.

The Juniors make an attempt to wipe out Sharon Smith.

Senior cheerleaders put on a good show throughout the game.

CANDYCANE COTILLION

The mood of Candycane Cotillion filled the air as couples danced to the music of Marv and the Firebirds.

Silver snowmen and Christmas trees, crepe paper candycanes and innumeral snowflakes were employed by the seniors in their preparation for the long awaited dance of the Holiday Season.

All it took was a pretty face, a steady hand, and a bit of festive air to create a Candycane Cotillion.

Manning the punch bowl with a woman's touch, Kathy Bowen offers a congenial smile.

A frightened Glorianna (Cathy Bowen) hugs Tully (Jerry Greiner) as the Mouse sounds its final roar.

Tully's forces capture General Snippet (Kevin Carigon) and his aides (Sharon Smith and Amy Laird). This scene proved to be one of the funniest in the play Rehearsals were long and frustrating for everyone, including the director, Miss Reeves.

Sharon Smith is caught in mid-air by the shutter's flash.

School Addition becomes a reality.

Cheerleaders wash cars with loving-care.

Concentration is not often found in the TA Room.

Prom and Graduation 1968

The evening quickly draws to a close as couples dance to the music of the Blues Reaction.

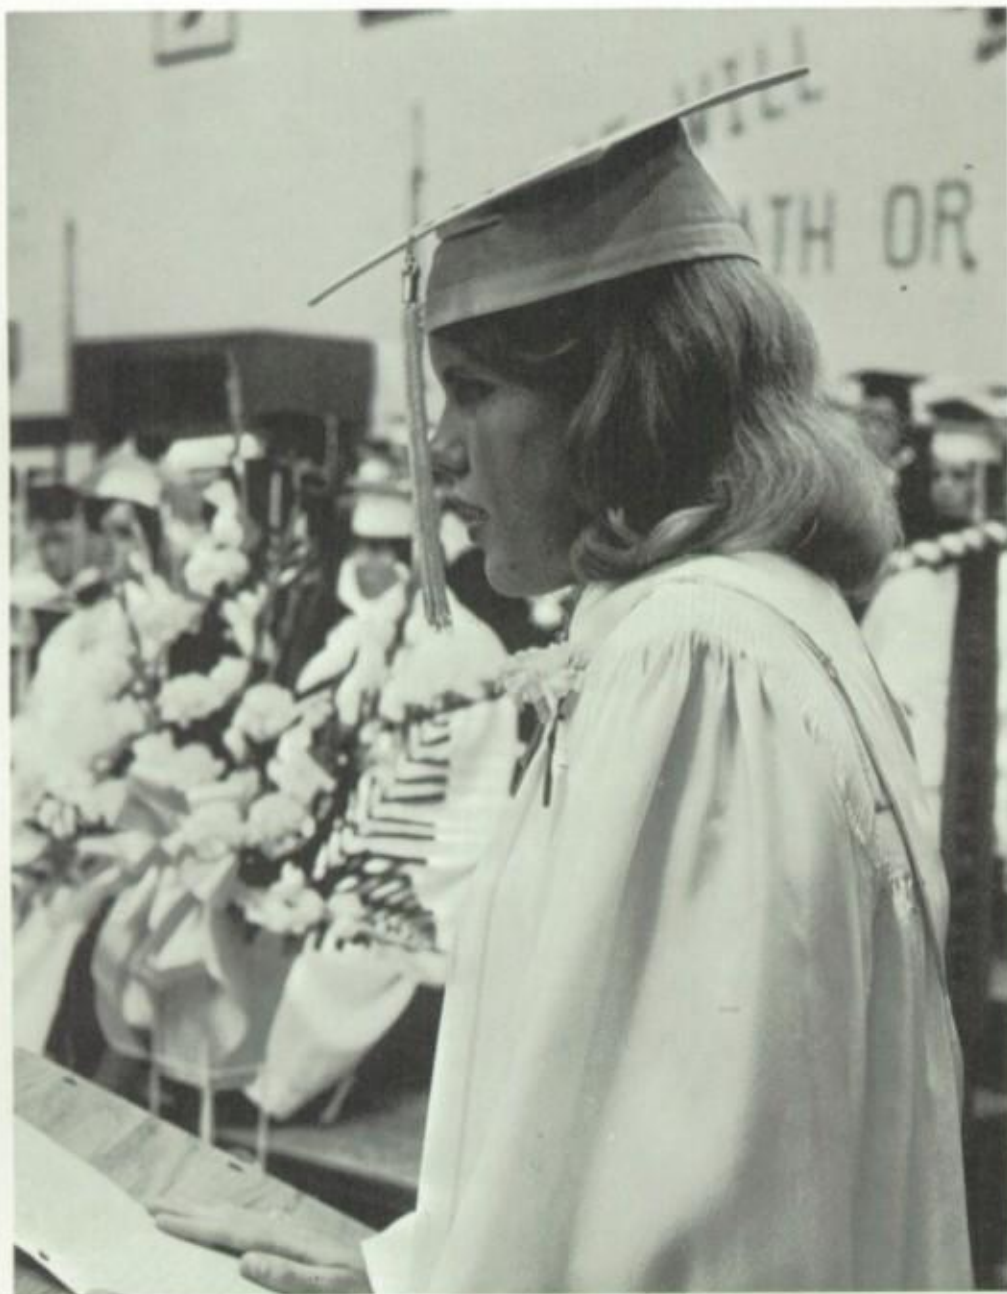

Connie Williams and Bill Sweet will long remember their last High School Prom.

An evening to be remembered ...
"Love is Blue. "

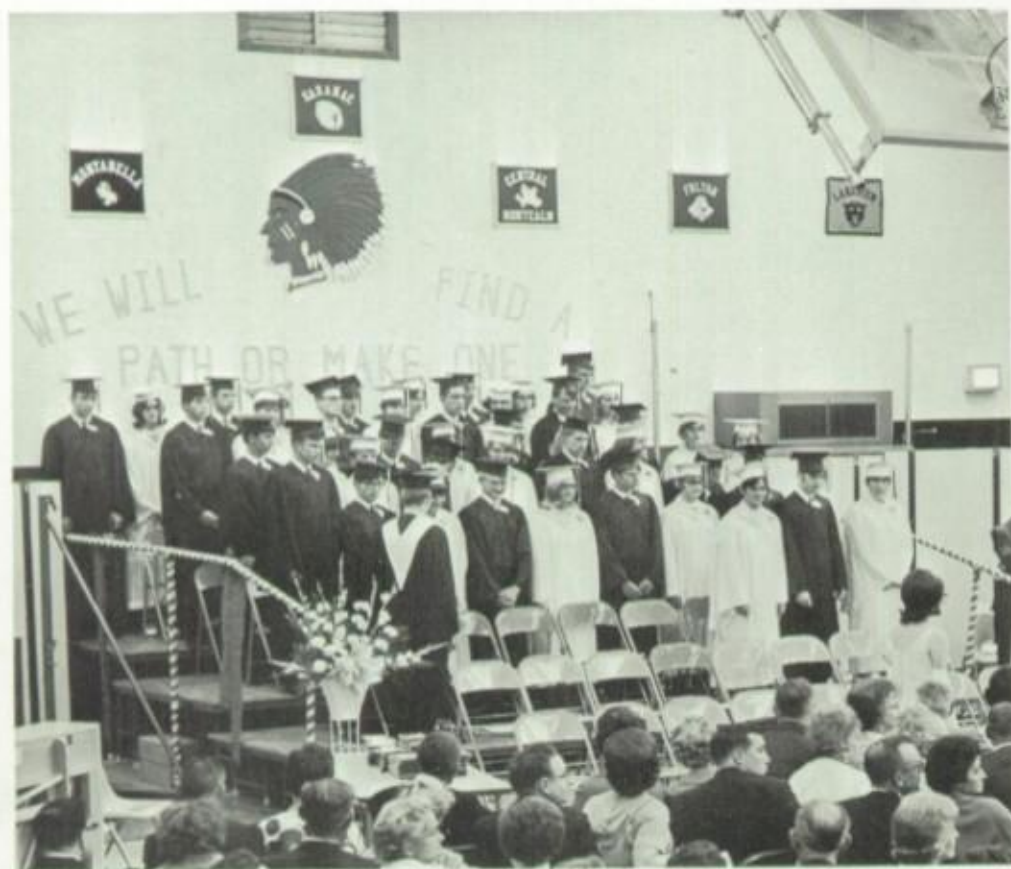

Mr. Norton and Mrs. Dyk seem pleased by the efforts of the Juniors in presenting the 1968 Prom.

Valedictorian, Kathy Dyk, delivers her address to "Parents, Faculty, and Friends."

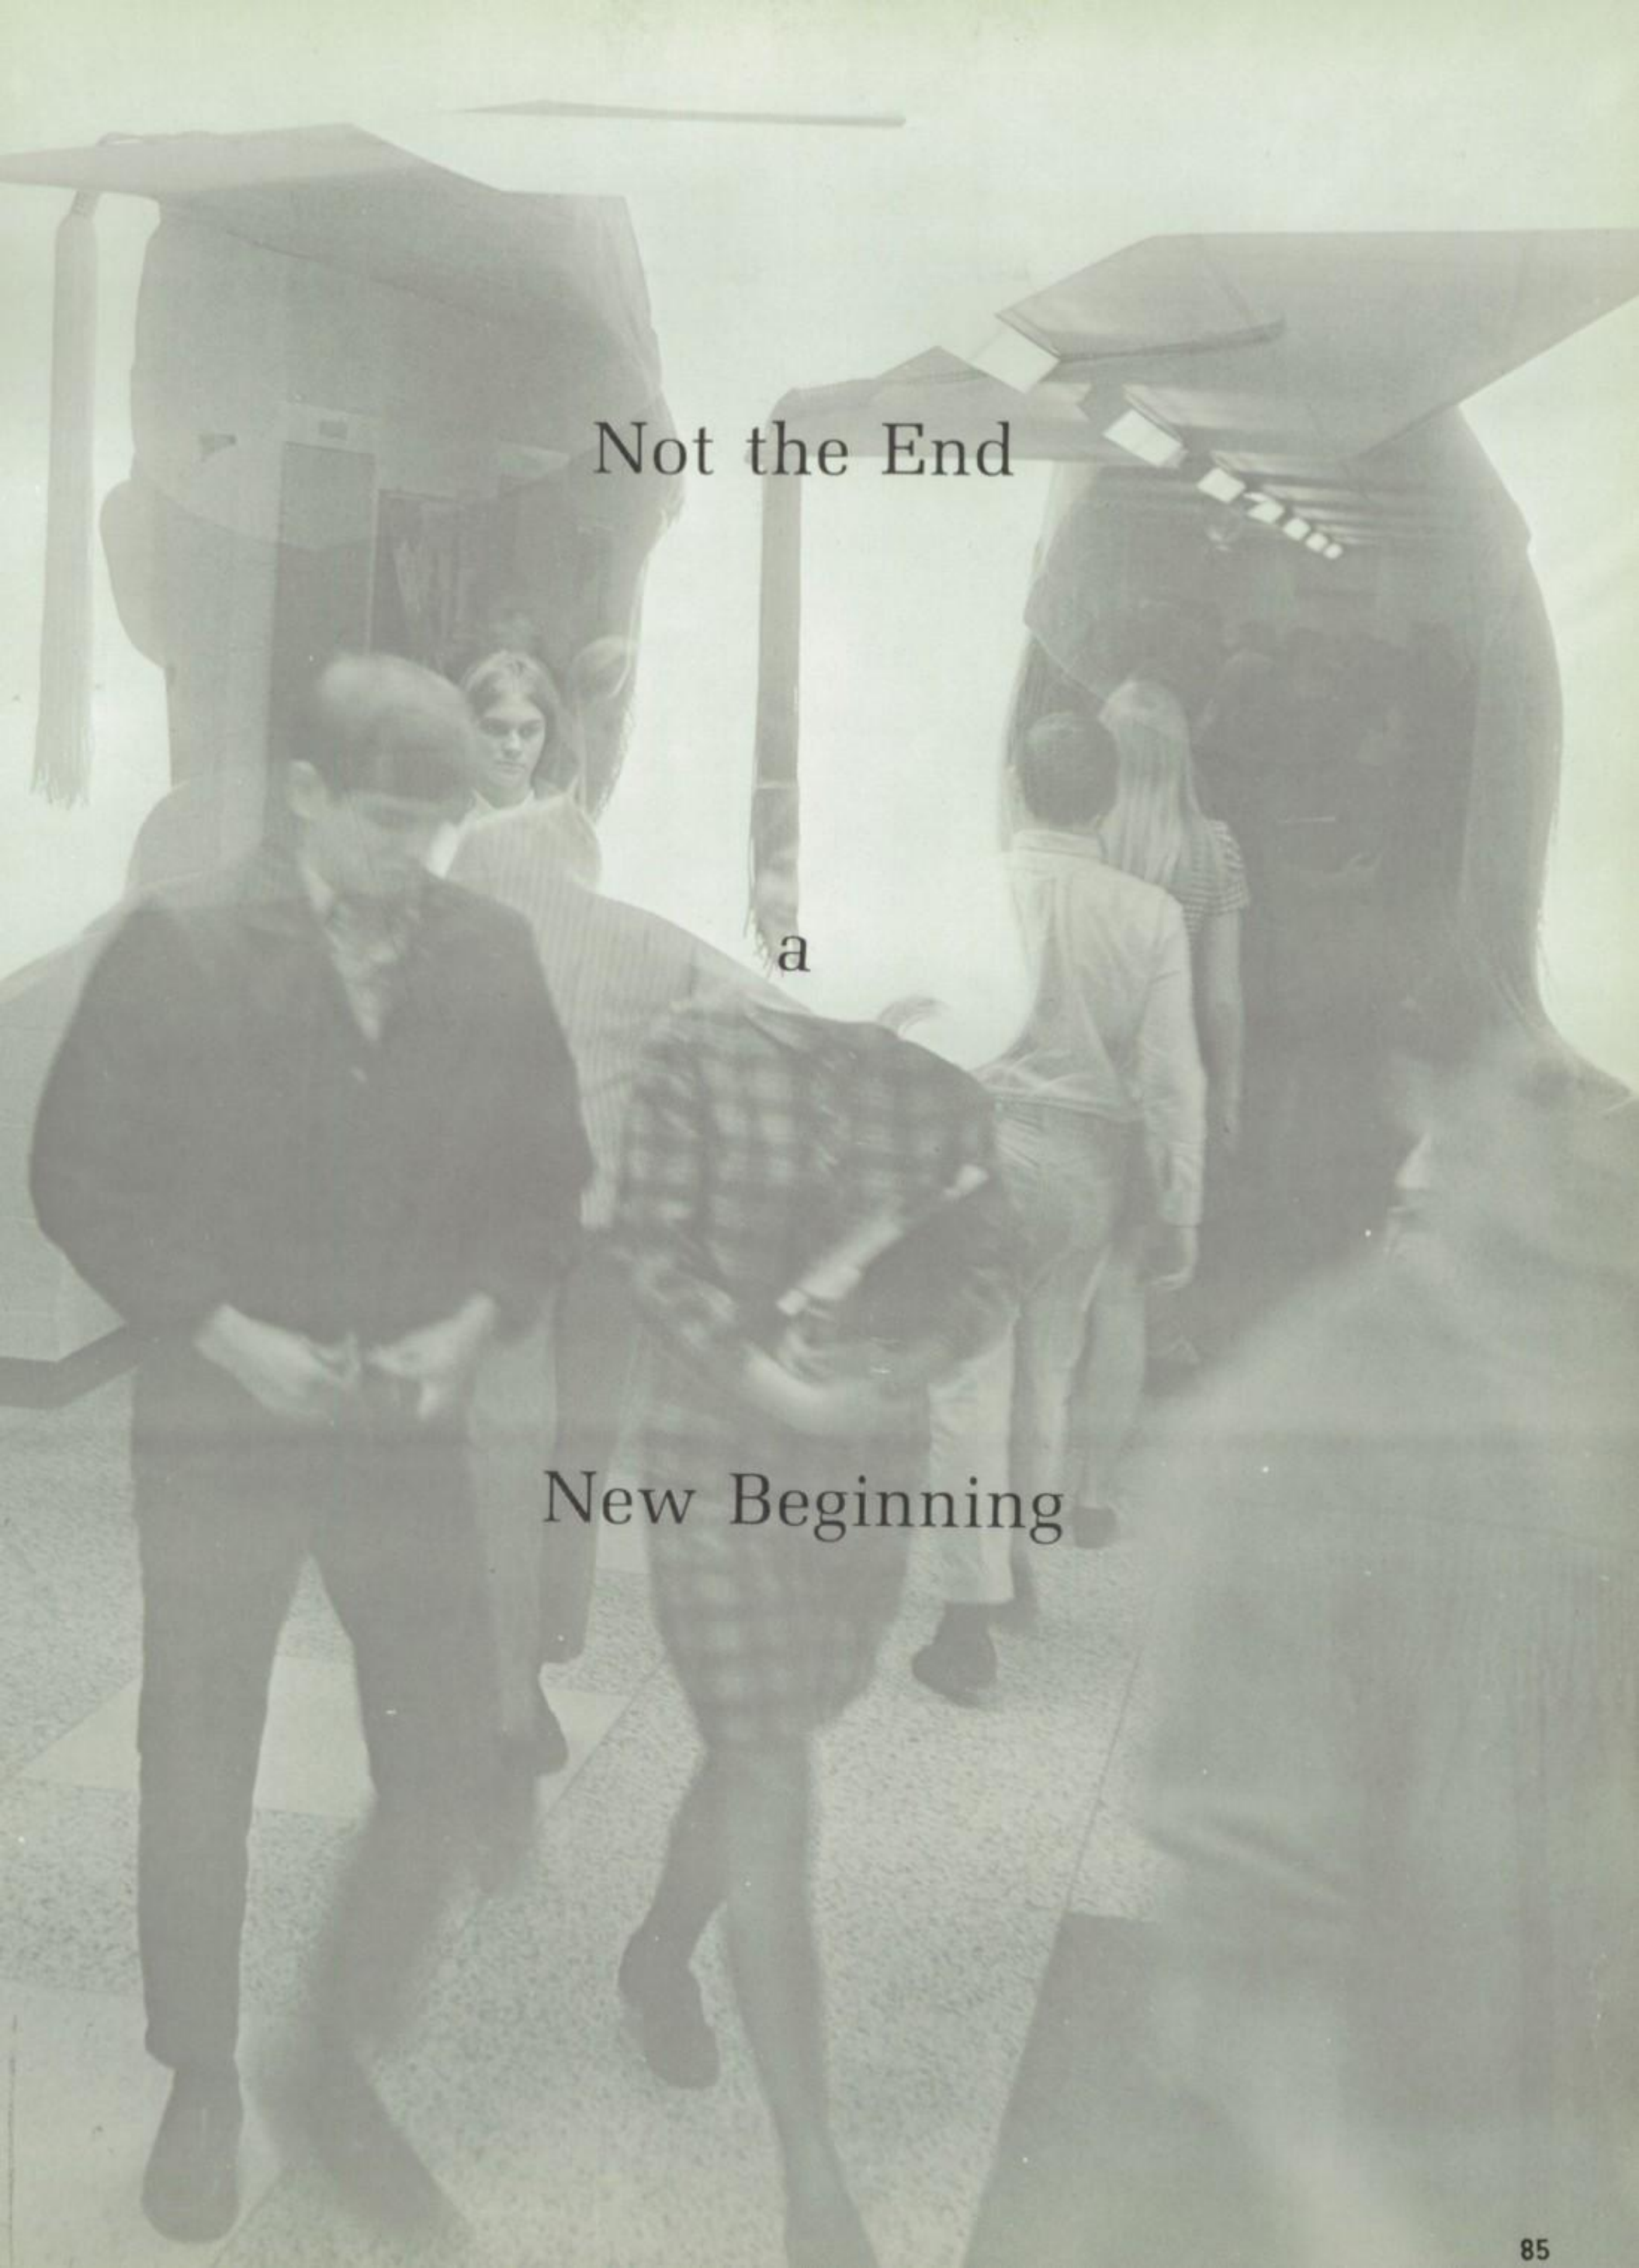

Seniors venture out on their long awaited walk.

Seniors, with mixed emotions, reach the last formality of their high school career.

Terrie Buekema holds the audience's attention with her salutatory speech.

Another year has come and gone. New friends were made ... "The Mouse That Roared" was performed by the Seniors ... beards, sideburns, and mustaches pasted men's faces, the new addition was in construction ... Homecoming came with "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" ... A Holiday Dance, the Candycane Cotillion ... Sophomores topped the Juniors in the magazine sales ... Valentines day ended a Twirped week ... Sophomores received their long awaited class rings ... Eighth graders cluttered the halls ... Seniors edged the Juniors in the Powder-puff contest ... Freshmen sold Amway ... Juniors contributed to another year.

The yearbook staff would like to thank: Ken Drake, a Taylor aid; Mr. Lada, a make-shift photographer; Mr. Zielinski, a helping hand; Mr. Laabs, a suggestful fellow; Mr. Norton, a pocketbook chairman; Jack Dehn and assistants, shutter specialists.

Over the "windows of expression" shades will be pulled - only to be reopened in the fall as another school year dawns.

They've come and gone - and not a bad crop so far. We've seen a long line of graduates accept their responsibilities, serve their country, found families: and we want to express our admiration for them, and the greatest confidence that this class will do as well.

Hi Allen!

Best of luck to one of the nicest boys in History Class. I didn't know you very well before this year.
I'm glad Mr B. stated us
the way he did! I hope you finish next year so you will graduate, but if you don't, I know you will be a big help to the U.S while in the service! I'll never forget you!

a friend always.

Mary C.

Goodbye
to you and always

How about that, it's almost the end of the year and you're still in school? It's really not that bad if you're happy. (At least that's what they tell me) I know I'm sure glad we met up this year, cuz it really been a real treat. I hadn't been for you showing me how, I still wouldn't be able to shut these stupid falls on a post take. I still haven't made it up to 100 on my bowling score, but believe me, I'm working on it. At least it's not so bad as I thought. 9,9,9,13,13 and so on. Right?
Any way, to make a long story short, I sure hope you have you can finish year, to make it the best year ever. Of that, I wish you the best of luck doing whatever you'll be doing and wish you ever OK? My best wishes go to you and I hope to be happy, I know you'll try.
Get a lot of luck in whatever you do.

slow,
best of luck
to a real nice
guy. Remember Reading
class stay as friendly
as you are now and you'll go far. Be good with friends always Chris
Rosanne "11"

ALL AN
good luck with Criss and keep the ke----- low
you better stay in school
this last year.
